If there is much loing in this trade it is kept very silent. Our exchanges have scarcely anything to say. The New York "Tribune" for Saturday says: "The business in domestic fleeces is limited; most holders are more anxious to realize, but buyers do not come forward in view of the liberal arrivals of New Clip, and the continued depression in the Goods market."

The buyers here seem to be active, and we note considerable quantities in store and being shipped. The farmers, however, are too busy at present to trade, not caring either to sell at the rate current. Prices are nominal.
